It's heartbreak

INCONSOLABLE: Luton fans show their grief after yesterday's play-off final defeat

Hatters pay the penalty in shoot-out

LUTON Town's dream of a return to the Football League ended in tears amid high drama in Manchester yesterday.

The Hatters, just 90 minutes away from returning to the division they were relegated from two seasons ago, were beaten 4-3 in a dramatic penalty shoot-out by AFC Wimbledon.

The two clubs had fought out a goalless 120 minutes, including extra time, setting up a winner takes all shoot-out finale which left Hatters' players and fans on their knees.

Jason Walker, who almost won the game for Luton barely a minute from the end of normal time when his header hit the inside of the post and bounced out, missed a spot kick along with the equally inconsolable Alex Lawless.

Hatters' keeper Mark Tyler saved from Kaid Mohamed in between but could do nothing about Danny Kedwell's clincher.

It was tears and torment for the Luton faithful who made up the vast number of the 18,000 crowd at the City of Manchester Stadium.

Some fans had travelled from as far away as the Turks and Caicos islands for the game while others, closer to home, journeyed from Devon and Cornwall.

But it wasn't to be and the team that Luton had finished behind in the league left the Hatters with another season in the Blue Square Bet.

Teenager caged for dealing in drugs

AN eighteen-year-old drug dealer has been jailed for three-and-a-half years. Sheraz Khan, of Whitecroft Road, Luton, was found guilty of three charges of possession with intent to supply class A drugs (heroin, crack cocaine and cocaine) handling stolen goods, possession of a class B drug (cannabis) and assaulting a police officer.

Khan had been arrested on August 12 last year by two officers while they were making a routine patrol of the Crawley area of the town and had stopped in Whitecroft Road to deal with an abandoned bike.

On Friday, Luton Crown Court heard how Khan had approached the officers and claimed to own the bike when they noticed a strong smell of cannabis.

They searched Khan and found some of the drug on him before taking him to Luton Police Station where more cannabis was found.

During the arrest Khan had tried to escape and had caused injuries to one of the officers.

A search of his home uncovered cling film containing white powder, further wraps of drugs, two mobile phones, scales, a measuring bowl and plastic deal bags.

Speaking after the sentencing, Detective Constable Ann Ward said: "The officers involved during the arrest showed great tenacity and by retaining Khan at the scene, even though one officer was injured, it meant that Khan could be brought to justice."

Anyone with information about those who deal in drugs in their area can contact Bedfordshire Police's confidential hotline number – 01582 394126 – or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Council won't stop the carnival for spruce-up

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TOWN centre regeneration project has been delayed by more than two months to avoid the risk of Luton Carnival being cancelled, we can reveal.

In February, Luton Borough Council announced £800,000 worth of work to improve the square outside the Town Hall and George Street was going to begin in mid-March. But on Monday it said, without mention of a delay, that it was now starting on May 31 – one day after the carnival.

A workman at the site, who did not want to be named, told Luton on Sunday: "We were meant to start in March, we were all ready to go, but politics got involved and they were worried they would have to cancel the carnival as it wouldn't get finished in time. The carnival goes right through here and they knew there would be uproar if it was cancelled for a year."

A council spokesman said: "The reason that the work was not started last year was because hoarding for The Mall extension was not cleared until early this year."

"There had been an intention to start the project earlier but this was revised to ensure that there was no negative impact on the carnival.

"The revised schedule ensured the works were split and that is why minor works such as the installation of new bollards, cycle racks and planters are already underway. The more major works will start after the carnival."

It is hoped the work will be completed by the end of the year.

Student hospitalised after campus skylight fall

A TEENAGER suffered injuries after falling through a skylight at Central Bedfordshire College.

An ambulance was rushed to the campus in Kingsway, Dunstable, shortly after 5.50am on Friday to reports of a 19-year-old who had fallen through the roof window.

He was taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital.

Bedfordshire Police are investigating the circumstances surrounding the fall.

IPCC looking into police dealings with Blue Lagoon murder victim

POLICE contact with Blue Lagoon victim Michael Gilbert before he was murdered is being investigated, we can reveal.

Shortly after his killers were jailed for Michael's death in 2009, the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) began looking into how a number of police forces – including Bedfordshire Police – came into contact with him.

It was heard at Luton Crown Court last year how a family kept Michael, 26, as a slave and made him sleep on the floor handcuffed to a bed in Marlborough Road, Luton, to prevent him from escaping.

Michael (pictured) died there on January 21, 2009, his body was dismembered and his head was cut off. The parts were put in two plastic sacks, weighted down, and driven to the Blue Lagoon, Arlesey.

One bag was found in May 2009, but the head was not recovered until the following February after Richard Watt confessed to police.

Michael had begun living with the family at their house in Yeovil Road in 2002 and moved with them to various addresses across the town over the next seven years. Twice he escaped, but each time was tracked down by his captors and brought back.

Michael had been arrested before, as shown by a 'mugshot' picture which was released by police after he died. In 2006 he was jailed for a short time after taking the blame for crimes committed by two of his captors – brothers Richard and James Watt.

When arrested in 2007, on an allegation of rape of which he was cleared, police were aware of how he was being treated by the Watts but he refused to press charges.

The IPCC will publish its findings alongside the outcome of the Serious Case Review led by Luton Safeguarding Of Vulnerable Adults Board (SOVA), which is expected to be announced in early June.

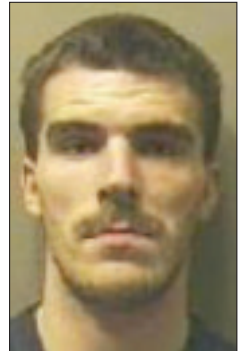

The SOVA review will establish whether there are any lessons to be learned from the circumstances of Michael's death and to see if anything could have been done differently by those who work to safeguard vulnerable adults.

Last week, Richard Watt, of Chertsey Close, Luton, had his sentence for familial homicide reduced from six to four years at London's Criminal Appeal Court.

James Watt, also of Chertsey Close, appealed against his sentence of a minimum of 36 years for the murder, but this was dismissed.

Member agencies of SOVA include Luton Borough Council, Bedfordshire Police, NHS Luton, Luton & Dunstable Hospital and Bedfordshire and Luton Mental Health and Social Care NHS Trust.

Bedfordshire Police said they are unable to comment until after the findings have been published.

EDL leader 'disgusted' his group is being targeted by anti-racist MEPs

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE English Defence League will stage a protest this week against MEPs who are travelling to Luton to combat the group's growth across Europe.

EDL leader Tommy Robinson (right) said he is 'disgusted' they are being targeted and says he and at least 50 other members will come armed with placards to greet the Euro MPs, which include Bedfordshire's Richard Howitt.

He will be joined by five other MEPs, who are all anti-racism campaigners, on Thursday when they will meet councillors, the police and faith leaders from the town to discuss how to tackle extremism.

They will first attend a meeting at Luton Town FC in the afternoon, and then another at the Town Hall. They will have a further meeting with faith leaders but would like to keep the location secret.

Mr Robinson said: "Why have they never had a meeting to combat militant Islam? We have not killed anyone, we are just using our democratic right to protest against extremism."

"We are putting together leaflets to show how Luton has produced extremists. I am going to get about 50 or 60 people to turn up, just from Luton. We could get up to 100. It has really wound me up."

Mr Howitt said: "However much the EDL shout, scream and protest, they will never drown out the voices of the majority of peace-loving, tolerant Lutonians.

"I will promote the fantastic work of Luton in Harmony and how community leaders are pulling together to stand up against racism and extremism."

"I want people to look to Luton as a centre of excellence in the fight against extremism as we work to build a united, cohesive community."

When the EDL marched through the town in February, at a policing cost of £2 million, their numbers were increased by far-right activists from across Europe.

A police spokesman said: "We are aware of the MEP meeting in Luton on Thursday. As in all instances anyone wishing to hold a protest should contact the council's Safety Advisory Group to ensure they are adhering to all health and safety requirements. Everyone has a right to freedom of speech and Bedfordshire Police will be monitoring Thursday's events to ensure all those people attending do so safely and adhere to the law."

Fire service issues warning to keep clear of disused buildings

THE fire service has sent out a warning to members of the public to avoid a disused industrial building in which a fire was deliberately started. It took around 20 firefighters more than an hour to bring the blaze in Pondwicks Road, Luton, under control last weekend.

There was concern that people may have been inside the property, which was previously owned by Kentmeters and police made the fire service aware the site was frequented by homeless people.

Firemen searched the building (pictured) but found nobody inside and the fire was extinguished at about 2.15pm. Since then an investigation into the cause of the blaze has not revealed how it started, although it has been discovered that it was deliberate.

Neil Thompson, spokesman for the fire service, said: "The police informed us that there were people who used the building as a dwelling."

"The first floor was heavily smoke-logged and we had to do a search and rescue. The fire would have been started deliberately but it could have been for heat and not intended to cause damage. I would send a clear message to keep well away from the building and other disused buildings as it is in a dangerous position. The building is compromised as it is boarded up which makes it difficult to escape.

"In addition there would be no fire alarms in working order so means of escape are compromised."

A police spokeswoman confirmed they regularly patrolled areas which the homeless were known to use. A council spokesman said: "The council was unaware this property was used by anyone. The building does not belong to the council and we have no control over it."

Teenager forced to strip by robbery gang

TWO teenagers were robbed by a gang who then demanded that one of them strip.

The victims, aged 16 and 17, were walking along Dog Kennel Walk from Dunstable to Houghton Regis when they were surrounded by eight to 15 youths – some black, some white.

They demanded valuables and headbutted one of them before ordering one to strip to his boxers and threw his clothes onto a fence.

They then made off with a black Sony Ericsson Cybershot mobile, £20 in cash and a pair of size 7 black Nike Air trainers.

The second victim was robbed of a black LG touchscreen mobile, two CDs, a pair of black Nike Air Max trainers and a red adidas hooded jacket with yellow and green stripes down both arms.

PC Jenny Buckley is keen to locate a woman with a dog who was asked by one of the victims to call the police.

One of the robbers, who ran off towards Houghton Regis, was aged around 17, white, 5ft 5ins tall and wore a grey tracksuit with an orange Solcal logo on the front. A second was white, aged around 16, and wore a grey tracksuit. A third was black, aged about 17, of skinny build and wore a grey top with green arms and grey tracksuit bottoms.

Anyone with information on the robbery, which happened between 4.40pm and 5pm last Saturday, can contact PC Buckley, in confidence, on 01234 841212, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Fozlu is sent home after Centre fails to spot X-ray fracture

Fozlu Miah

EXCLUSIVE

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A HOSPITAL patient was sent home by medical staff who did not realise he had a fractured ankle.

Fozlu Miah, of Stapleford Road, Luton, was taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital on May 2, after he twisted his ankle and had trouble walking on it.

He was seen by staff at the L&D-based Urgent Care Centre (UCC) and told it was just bruising, only to hear a voicemail a few days later saying he was being recalled and needed another X-ray.

Mr Miah, 34, said: "I had an X-ray done and the doctor looked at it and said I was fine to go home as it was just bruising."

"I then got a message on my phone four days later from the UCC saying they wanted to 'recall me' because someone had spotted something in my file and that I should go back in."

"I went back to the fracture clinic at the L&D and had to have another X-ray because they couldn't find the first one."

"The doctor then said that I do have a fracture in my ankle. I was shocked to hear that. I would have been walking with a fractured ankle for a few weeks."

"I now have a cast on my ankle." Care UK is contracted by NHS Luton to provide the out-of-hours UCC service. It is not run by L&D staff.

A Care UK spokesman said: "In this case, the reviewing consultant radiologist saw an extremely faint line on the X-ray which could have suggested a fracture so he recommended that the patient was recalled for a second X-ray from a slightly different angle."

"When he came in and his new X-ray was reviewed, it did show that the patient had a small undisplaced fracture, which was treated. At no point was any X-ray lost. We are sorry to hear that Mr Miah felt that our care fell short of the high standards that we pride ourselves on and would be very happy to meet him to discuss this further."

New mayor aims to promote town

A NEW mayor for Luton was elected on Tuesday night at the council's annual meeting.

Cllr Don Worthing was first elected as a councillor in Broomfield in 1996 and was then chosen to represent the new Northwell ward in 2003 which he has done ever since. He also served as deputy mayor from 1997 to 1998.

Cllr Worthing said: "This is something I always wanted to do and I thought it would be nice for the people of Northwell to have their long-standing councillor as mayor."

"I want to promote Luton as it gets a lot of negative things said against it that it doesn't deserve."

"I want to do my best for Luton and promote employment, regeneration and the city status bid so the young people of Luton have a better chance."

Arts centre wins award

THE UK Centre for Carnival Arts was recognised for its 'architectural excellence' on Thursday.

It is one of 97 other buildings in the UK and Europe which were commended at the annual Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) awards.

The judges said the centre, based in St Mary's Road, Luton, is a 'bold attempt to recreate the sense of an arts community that has developed in an ad-hoc way over a period of time.'

Olympic flame visit will boost the town

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE passage of the Olympic flame through Luton next year will provide a inspirational springboard for the town 'getting the credibility it deserves'.

That is the hope of Luton Borough Council's regeneration chief Colin Chick, who is eager for the event - revealed at The Hat Factory, in Bute Street, on Wednesday - to be a huge boost to Luton.

The London 2012 Olympic Torch Relay will visit Luton on Sunday, July 8 next year as part of its journey around the UK, marking the end of a unique cultural weekend beginning on Friday, July 6.

Ex-Olympic rower Tim Foster, who won gold with Sir Steve Redgrave, Matthew Pinsent and James Cracknell in the coxless fours at the Sydney Olympics in 2000, officially revealed the good news.

Mr Chick said: "I'm pleased Tim Foster came along to make the announcement. Inspiration can drive you forward. This is the next step towards giving Luton the credibility it deserves.

"We hear Tim's story of how he was good at a Bedfordshire school and went on to win Olympic gold.

"Let's use the flame passing through Luton as a vehicle for inspiration to the people of Luton."

Next year, Luton Carnival will move from its traditional date on the Spring Bank Holiday Monday to Saturday, July 7, while Luton Mela will also switch from its usual late-summer date to take place on July 8.

Mr Foster (pictured) said: "For me the dream started at 16 and it took me 14 years of hard work to get there.

"The Olympic flame does burn brightly, so when it comes through Luton we'll all be there. Let's look forward to 2012."

Official figures show number of people out of work falling

UNEMPLOYMENT has fallen in Luton compared to figures from last year.

Data released by the Office for National Statistics on Wednesday reveals that the number of those claiming Jobseekers Allowance in the town stood at 5,824 in April - a drop from 6,316 at the same time last year.

Clr Roy Davis, who is in charge of regeneration at Luton Borough Council, said: "These latest figures reflect this work and show that Luton is becoming a thriving cosmopolitan community and that is one of the reasons why we think we deserve city status - which in itself is likely to bring in even more investment into the town."

Last week it was announced the JobCentre in Guildford Street, Luton, would be shutting, but that staff would be offered roles elsewhere by the Department for Work and Pensions.

Could you foster a child?

Foster carers offer children more than a welcoming home. They provide security at a time when children may be lonely and afraid. They offer kind words when children are upset and they listen when children need to speak. Luton Borough Council is currently seeking foster carers across the spectrum, and particularly for babies and pre-school children. Placements are also being sought for siblings and children aged over 12 years.

And, having successfully recruited a number of black and minority ethnic carers from Luton's diverse communities in recent years, the Council is also particularly keen at the moment to increase the availability of white British carers interested in fostering children.

Foster carers must be able to offer the time, commitment and space – and energy – to care for children separated from their families. They support children in their education, health and social wellbeing, attend meetings and keep written records. They also support contact with families.

Foster carers are further supported to manage special needs or behaviour, and communicate effectively.

In return, Luton Borough Council provides training, 24-hour support and a minimum allowance of £152 per week per child.

Typically, children come into care either by voluntary agreement with parents, or under an order from the courts. In some cases this may be for a matter of days or weeks, or for much longer. However, many of these children will return to their families.

Many different kinds of people make good foster carers, and the Council welcomes applicants from all races, religions and communities. We welcome single people as well as couples – whether you have your own children or not. And we are as keen to talk to people aged over 50 as we are to young people in their 20s, 30s, and 40s.

Fostering is a challenging and rewarding career that helps some of the most vulnerable children in society, and there is always a demand for more foster carers.

For more information, or to access an application form, please contact Luton Fostering Services on 01582 547737, visit our website www.luton.gov.uk/fostering or call into Unity House at 111 Stuart Street, Luton LU1 5NP.

Awards honour Luton's amazing foster carers

Many of Luton's current foster carers were recognised last Friday (13 May) at the Annual Awards Evening for Foster Carers. The event, which was held at Vauxhall Recreation Club's Riverside Suite, is held to celebrate the valuable work of foster carers and the effort and time they dedicate to their positions. Popular Heart FM presenter Babs acted as host throughout the evening, presenting 'long service' awards to carers who had reached landmark years.

Carol and David Wells receive their awards from Martin Pratt, the Council's Corporate Director, Children & Learning.

Sixteen carers received awards this year, who between them had racked up an impressive 165 years of service. Among this year's award winners were Carole and David Wells, a couple who have been fostering for 30 years. The couple, who live in Luton, have helped to raise over 300 children in their time as carers and have no plans to stop any time soon. Carole said: "Fostering is hugely rewarding and gives you the opportunity to really make a difference and touch the lives of others. Currently, there is a huge demand for foster carers in Luton and I would really recommend that people consider getting involved in it. If I had to live my life over again, I would definitely still choose to foster."

The awards evening coincides with Foster Care Fortnight, a campaign run annually by the Fostering Network to celebrate and promote fostering across the UK. The campaign runs from Monday 16 May until Sunday 29 May and aims to encourage more people to consider a career in fostering.

"I'm no longer scared."

"My foster carers make me feel safe."

Fostering has its ups and downs but the rewards exceed the challenges. If you have a spare room and have lots of time, energy and love to give to a child in need, Luton Fostering Services would like to hear from you.

Antifreeze poisoning feared to be behind cats' demise

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO cats owned by an RSPCA officer have died from suspected antifreeze poisoning.

Nicola O'Brien, of Stopsley, Luton, has been left devastated after two-year-old feline Charlotte died on Monday – the second of her pets to do so within the space of six weeks.

On March 26, eight-year-old Marshall appeared to be in a distressed state and was swaying and vomiting.

Animal collection officer (ACO) O'Brien rushed him to a vet but sadly a day later she had to make the heartbreaking decision to put him to sleep.

Then this week, she discovered Charlotte had collapsed at her door and was slipping in and out of consciousness.

Again ACO O'Brien rushed her to the vet who found she was suffering from kidney failure like Marshall and also was put down.

In both cases the vet believed the symptoms displayed were a result of antifreeze poisoning. Cats seem to enjoy the taste of antifreeze – but they can soon suffer agonising deaths if they eat or drink it.

ACO O'Brien said: "I am just absolutely devastated to have lost both my cats. It is absolutely heartbreaking to see your cats suffer such horrendous pain."

"I am not sure if this is just two coincidental unfortunate accidents, or if someone has done this deliberately. We are investigating this and we would appeal to anyone who has any information regarding this to contact the RSPCA cruelty line on 0300 1234 999."

"I also want to warn people who may have antifreeze in their homes to ensure they are storing and disposing of it properly."

Woman is assaulted during handbag theft

A WOMAN was hit in the face and had her handbag stolen on Wednesday evening.

The 27-year-old victim was approached in Parkway Road, Luton, by two men who tried to snatch the black Diesel leather handbag containing an iPhone, mp3 player, cash, glasses and a key at around 7.35pm. She struggled but was hit in the face before they left the scene.

Detective Sergeant Graham McMillan said: "This victim was very brave but we would always advise victims of crime not to put themselves in danger but concentrate on remembering as much information about the offenders as possible and report the incident to the police without delay."

Anyone with information about this crime can call Bedfordshire Police on 01234 841212, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Sports centre big picture

SIR - I have read reports on the progress of the new Aquatic Centre and how Luton will benefit from it, which it will.

But are the public aware that Luton Regional Sports Centre is to be demolished?

The new sports hall is 50 per cent smaller, there are no new squash courts, no community bar to match the needs that the Luton Regional Bar provides and no tennis courts.

Luton Regional is a profitable leisure centre. Council leader Hazel Simmons said the Building Schools for the Future projects would replace these facilities but that has been cancelled?

Come on, let the public know what they are to lose as well as gain. Let Lutonians see the whole picture.

JobCentre madness

SIR - Why are they closing the JobCentre in Luton?

Who is the person who came up with this idea?

In these difficult times, can someone please explain how it makes sense to shut down something that helps people back into employment.

Unemployment is at sky-high levels, and Luton suffers more than most when it comes to issues like this, so the timing couldn't be worse.

The Government department charged with making this decision can't be full of stupid people.

There must be a very big reason to take such drastic action – no wonder the unions are up in arms over it.

And of all the places, it's Luton getting clobbered – again. The town always seems to bear the brunt.

The Department for Works and Pensions spokesman said 'we have to operate as efficiently as possible'.

There will be more people out of a job when this happens. How is this being 'more efficient'?

I hope there's logic in there somewhere, but I can't see.

Councillors give thanks

SIR - May I use the letters page to thank the residents of Lewsey Poets wards for electing us to represent them following the recent local elections.

We are very proud at the result and assure you of our continued commitment to work on your behalf in whatever way we can.

I would also like to remind you that we hold a surgery every Saturday between 10am and noon at Lewsey Community Centre.

If there are any issues you would like for us to deal with please come along and see us.

Thanking you again.

Older fathers – a limit

SIR - Steve Lowe's column in last week's paper about being an 'older father' was a very interesting read.

I think there can be very negative attitudes to older people having children but I think as long as they are fit and healthy and will still be able to fully look after their children

Pigeon poo and corpses take the biscuit

SIR - I read with interest your article 'Pigeon poop forces three-night closure' (Luton on Sunday, May 15).

I walk under Sundon Park railway bridge frequently and at the beginning of last week it seemed to me that no work whatsoever has been done.

Admittedly there is netting over one small part of the rafters but this has been in situ for years and it doesn't look to me if even this bit has been replaced.

Our feathered friends are therefore still able to nest under the rafters as illustrated in your article and continue to split their stuff to their hearts' content.

However, what really concerns me is that on the pavement and road under the bridge, pigeons often flop to their demise and several days pass before anything is done to remove them.

What really caught my eye recently was a half-covered chocolate biscuit which was propped upright against the kerbside for about three days; I assumed that someone had accidentally dropped it but on walking under the bridge yet again, a day or so ago, although pigeon droppings are still obviously apparent, what could have been a tasty treat for such creatures had completely disappeared – could this matter therefore prove to be a severe case of someone taking the biscuit in more ways than one?

Sue Goddard
Toddington Road, Luton

while they are growing up, I say go for it. From my personal experience older parents tend to be more mature in their approach since they have more life experience and are less selfish because they have led a fuller life.

However, I think those who start having children in their late 60s and onwards is a step too far since it is unlikely they will be able to see their child grow throughout the years.

Not only will they be missing out but their child will grow up without a parent in their life.

Be aware of MS effects

SIR - This week is Multiple Sclerosis Awareness Week, and I'd like to tell your readers about this disabling neurological disease.

MS affects the central nervous system. Its cause is not known and there is no cure. It affects around 85,000 people in the UK, most often between the ages of 20 and 40.

MS has affected such celebrities as cellist Jacqueline du Pré, footballer Danny Wallace, comedian Richard Pryor and former Dr Who William Hartnell.

People with MS or other disabilities often find it extremely costly and difficult to organise a break away from their difficult daily routine because of their complex medical and care arrangements.

As a result, a huge number of disabled people and their carers give up on the possibility of ever taking a break, due to the enormous physical or financial barriers they face.

Carers also face exhaustion and the risk of becoming disabled themselves, and are in equally desperate need of relief.

I work for Vitalise, a national charity providing essential breaks with care at accessible UK centres for people affected by a range of different disabilities, including MS.

Each year we enable thousands of disabled people and carers to take desperately needed breaks with us – breaks which often mean the difference between coping and despair. But we couldn't do it without the generosity of our supporters. If you would like to find out more about our breaks or how you can support Vitalise, please call us on 0845 345 1972 or visit www.vitalise.org.uk

Recycle all your clothing

SIR - I'm writing from Salvation Army Trading Company Ltd (SATCoL), which operates The Salvation Army Clothing Collection Scheme.

This year marks our 20th anniversary and we'd like to extend our sincere thanks to all your readers who have helped us with their generous donations over the past two decades, and to remind them to recycle any old clothing they won't be wearing this summer.

There are lots of ways to donate, whether it's via clothing banks at a local supermarket or recycling centre, a door-to-door collection bag, or one of our charity shops.

We can accept all unwanted clothing, shoes, household linens – even cuddly toys – although we do prefer things to be clean.

Readers can find their nearest banks and shops at www.wear2bank.co.uk

It's so important to our environment that we don't put textiles into landfill as they're more harmful to the environment than many people imagine – in fact, the CO₂ savings from textile recycling is second only to aluminium yet only 24 per cent of what is possible is currently recycled or reused.

So we're urging people to think twice before throwing that old T-shirt into the bin – even if it can't be reused it could be shredded and used as mattress stuffing or car soundproofing.

There's another life out there for almost everything that's donated to us and only a tiny one per cent ends up in landfill. We're working hard to get this figure to zero.

The donated clothing helps stock our charity shops meet human need identified by The Salvation Army and is also exported to provide affordable clothing in Eastern Europe.

Profit SATCoL receives from the donations is gift-aided to help The Salvation Army in the UK and Republic of Ireland and funds work such as homelessness services, support for those with addictions, elderly care and much, much more.

In the past three years we've donated £16.2 million to the charity and support from your readers has made this all possible.

Thank you, and let's make our 20th year a bumper one.

Poverty on rise again

SIR - We welcome the comprehensive research on poverty and inequality in the UK published by the Institute of Fiscal Studies (IFS) and the critical debate on poverty that this brings.

While the data does not hold any surprises for us as we regularly hear the stories of our applicants, it is sad that despite decades of government intervention, the national picture is still so poor.

While 2009-10 figures show that child and pensioner poverty has fallen. We are deeply concerned with longer-term projections by the IFS, which indicate that child poverty will be on the rise again and up to 2.9 million by 2013-14.

Families continue to be faced with rising inflation, buoyed by energy price rises and food inflation. These are not luxury items that can simply be turned off, but the staples of life itself.

It is also vital that we examine what the future will hold for the UK's population of working-age adults.

It is shocking that poverty among working-age adults without dependent children is higher than it has ever been before, and there is an urgent need to address this neglected issue so that more people can be helped out of the poverty trap.

As a national poverty charity, we recognise the reality of these statistics, dealing daily with the struggles faced by those in financial need.

The number of people coming to us for help is steadily rising, and we are seeing an increased number of working-age adults applying, mirroring the national statistics.

In 2011, we believe that it is unacceptable for those with the skills to work, face such an uncertain future.

In 2011-12 and beyond, significant spending cuts and slow growth mean that poverty numbers are forecast to rise again.

In these uncertain economic times, it is more important than ever that people in financial need are aware of their potential entitlement to welfare benefits and other financial support, and we would urge them to check their eligibility through our service Turn2us at www.turn2us.org.uk

Best wishes, Sheila

SIR - I would like to send my congratulations over to Cllr Sheila Roden after reading your front page story last week.

The fact she won her seat by such a comfortable margin while she was ill in hospital pays tribute to what a wonderful job she has done in Leagrave for a number of years.

More councillors like her are needed in the council chamber – those that work hard for ward residents and fight for what is right.

Best of luck to Cllr Roden in her recovery from what sounds like an awful experience.

Wonderful zoo insight

SIR - I was fascinated to read your feature last week about Whipsnade Zoo.

What a wonderful job the staff at the zoo do. In a time where the news is filled with doom and gloom stories, it was a breath of fresh air to read about something interesting and light-hearted.

I can't imagine how much time and effort staff must put into every day at work to make sure all the animals are well looked after and cared for.

The vet Tim Bouts came across as a man who is passionate about his job and where nothing is too much effort for those he is looking after.

I have visited Whipsnade a few times over the years and it is reassuring to know all the animals that are kept there are treated well and in good hands.

Steve Jones
Leighton Buzzard

An inspirational tale

SIR - I really enjoyed reading about the day-to-day work of the vet at Whipsnade Zoo, you sometimes forget how much work is put in by background members of staff to keep the zoo in running order.

People of Bedfordshire should be proud we have such a wonderful zoo right on our doorstep and take the chance to appreciate all the amazing animals.

To be able to celebrate its 80th birthday is also a great feat, it's not often anything lasts as long nowadays and it would be comforting to know the park will be open for many more years to come.

I have been to the zoo a number of times over the years and to be able to see all the animals in such beautiful surroundings is something that should not be taken for granted.

I certainly will appreciate all the hard work the teams put in when I next take my grandchildren there and hope the trip will encourage them to want to become involved in the zoo in later life.

Top cop interrogated

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

IS Bedfordshire's top cop into rock music or trance? Does he support Manchester United or Liverpool?

You can find out the answers, and many more, when Chief Constable Alfred Hitchcock (right) is held for questioning on 'just about anything' via Facebook this week.

People who have 'liked' the page will be able to put whatever they like to the chief, including topics such as policing in the county, his first five months in post or even about more light-hearted things like his sporting allegiances or music tastes.

Mr Hitchcock said: "We had a fantastic response to our pilot session and it was great to see so many people interested in the future of the force.

"I hope it offered the opportunity to allay any concerns about how we will continue to deliver a first rate service in the wake of budget cuts and I am very open to answering questions on how we plan to continue fighting crime and protecting the public going forward."

The session will take place on Thursday between 6pm and 7.30pm and further information on the session will be available at www.facebook.com/pages/Bedfordshire-Police/198708031310

Drill Hall sale date still not set after 'confusion and fury'

THERE is no set date for a final decision on the suspended sale of the controversial Drill Hall site.

There had been speculation earlier in the year that the building in Old Bedford Road, Luton, could be turned into a mosque, but a review is ongoing to assess whether it should instead be used to meet housing and educational needs.

David Franks, leader of the Town Hall's Liberal Democrats, has criticised Luton Borough Council's Labour group and said the issue 'needs to be resolved and quickly'.

Cllr Franks said: "The original delay to the decision caused confusion and fury both in the religious group which thought it was close to a deal and among those who want the site developed for housing."

Cllr Hazel Simmons, leader of Luton Borough Council, said: "The executive work plan is only an early working draft and is out for consultation. We expect that the Drill Hall review will be included in the final document."

MPs need a reminder over how to behave

THEY still don't get it. MPs this week were debating the issue of whether David Laws, the Lib Dem with a brain the size of a planet, should be suspended from Parliament for a week.

Mr Laws fiddled his expenses by claiming around £40,000 as rent which he paid to his partner. This, he said, was done, not out of an attempt of financial gain but to conceal the fact he was homosexual.

While sanctioning him, the parliamentary commissioner agreed he acted to protect his privacy. Which seems a little strange on two counts. First, in these days who would have cared. Second Mr Laws is a multi-millionaire, so if he really wanted to protect his privacy he need not have claimed at all.

Still MPs debated this week whether he should be suspended from the House of Commons for seven days. I wonder if you or I fiddled our employer the sanction would be an extra week's holiday.

Anyway some MPs took the opportunity to throw a little mud, others to defend Mr Laws as an honourable man who has been unfairly punished.

I think a dose of humility on both sides would not go amiss. The issue of MPs fiddling their expenses has made ordinary voters more angry than any other event in recent political history.

And with it came the realisation that the House of Commons was no more than a private club whose members, by and large, cared little for the people who put them there.

The last election was intended to change all that. Have you noticed a change? A few MPs have gone to prison, a few have been censored but most seem happy to carry on regardless.

There are new rules about claiming expenses, but MPs have been complaining about them, to the point where they have already been relaxed. There seems very little consistency about how people are punished. Have those who went to prison been demonstrably worse than many others, such as Luton's former MP, Margaret Moran, who appears to have gone completely unpunished? MPs were chastised by their doorstep experience during last year's election campaign but now appear to have forgotten everything. Perhaps we need to remind them.

The last election was intended to change all that. Have you noticed a change? A few MPs have gone to prison, a few have been censored but most seem happy to carry on regardless.

Homes scheme delayed after 'core strategy' fears are raised by inspector

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

DECISIONS about plans to build thousands of homes could be delayed until the beginning of 2012 after concerns were raised about the 'soundness' of the strategy.

At the packed meeting on Wednesday, called by Government inspector David Vickery who has been reviewing the core strategy, he said there are a 'number of potentially serious concerns' with the core strategy and they mainly revolve around what, where, when and how they will be delivered.

Luton on Sunday last week exclusively revealed that the inspector had called the meeting to discuss the core strategy, which sets out plans for housing, employment, roads and schools in Luton and South Bedfordshire. He said: "We don't want it to be a waste of time, effort and expense of all parties if it's likely to be found unsound. That doesn't mean I have found it sound or that I have failed to appreciate the hard work the JTU have put in. It's just my concerns make it inappropriate to continue without further discussion."

Lachlan Robertson, head of the JTU, said: "We are grateful for the opportunity for a spring clean, to polish the silver and dust the china. There's a need to undertake changes but as yet the Joint Committee is not yet established [because of the recent elections] so the first opportunity there will be to discuss this will be a meeting on June 24."

A decision on what the JTU plan to do about the core strategy will be made after June 24. Mr Vickery said it was likely they would want to temporarily suspend the examination for six months meaning it could not be held until December or even next January.

Valuable work of carers recognised

MANY of Luton's foster carers were recognised at an annual awards evening last week.

The event was held at Vauxhall Recreation Club's Riverside Suite, in Gipsy Lane, Luton, to celebrate the valuable work of foster carers and the effort and time they dedicate to their positions.

Sixteen carers received awards on May 13, who between them had racked up an impressive 165 years of service.

Among those honoured were Carole and David Wells, a couple who have been fostering for 30 years.

Labour young guns

FOUR newly-elected councillors are throwing off the preconception that people in their twenties do not get involved in politics. One of the newcomers is aged just 22. Reporter CHRISTINA JOHNSON spoke to them about what they hope to achieve in their four-year term.

THE first Luton Borough Council meeting after the elections took place on Tuesday night and it was a chance for all new councillors to take their places in the Town Hall chamber.

Four of the people celebrating on the night after the May 5 polls were 'twenty-somethings' Labour members Andy Malcolm, 26, and Roxanna Whittaker, 27, who were both chosen to represent High Town, along with Tafheen Sharif, 29, for Dallow, and Amy O'Callaghan, 22, for South ward.

They all come from very different backgrounds, from Miss Whittaker's previous role in the Foreign Office to Mr Malcolm's voluntary experience in environmental charity Transition Luton, but they all agree more young people should be encouraged to get involved in the community.

Miss O'Callaghan was the youngest councillor in the town

YOUTH IN POLITICS: Andy Malcolm, Amy O'Callaghan, Tafheen Sharif and Roxanna Whittaker

to be elected last month and is proud to say that she is a born and bred Lutonian.

She went to Foxdell, South Luton High School and Luton Sixth Form College before going to the University of Hull to study British politics and legislative studies.

She previously interned for shadow cabinet minister, Meg Hillier, and also works for Luton South MP Gavin Shuker as a caseworker. She said: "I am very keen to put my politics books down and really help make a difference.

"We are seeing an exciting movement of young people getting more involved in Luton matters and this is exactly the new dynamic which the town needs."

"It is an honour to be part of it." Mr Malcolm returned to Luton to become a teacher after he studied education at the University of Cambridge.

schools and now works as a manager at a centre for students in the town.

He said: "When I moved back to Luton, I wanted to do good things. Being a councillor is an amazing opportunity.

"All of us have a lot of life experience and we can fully lay that out to people.

"We have a lot of energy and enthusiasm and we can bring in fresh ideas.

"Things have changed a lot now and we as young people can bring that into the council.

Luton needs young councillors to represent the young people in the community."

Miss Whittaker grew up in the East End of London but moved to Luton in 2007 after university.

She took a job working with LAMP, the young people's homeless charity, and then moved to the Foreign Office, working in the Forced Marriage Unit.

Since February she has been busy in High Town for a small charity supporting vulnerable women.

She said: "There's a preconceived notion that you can't as there is bureaucracy but when I realised you can make changes as a councillor, I wanted to be involved in that."

Miss Sharif was born in Dallow and after she completed a law degree at university in London she returned to Luton where she now works in the legal profession.

She is already involved in the community as she is chairman of Foxdell Infant School and an associate governor at Luton Sixth Form College.

Miss Sharif said: "I can bring fresh skills as a Labour councillor in Luton. I have a strong inclination to help people and would be a strong ambassador for the community, especially for the young people.

"I relish helping people and I've been doing that from a young age.

"The next step was to formalise it and be seen in the community.

"It's very, very important young people do come on board and represent the community.

"We are all part of one community and we should all be involved in civic life in some extent.

"We should encourage young people now."

EasyJet report warns of fee hike job losses

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

INCREASING flying charges could lead to the loss of up to 77,000 jobs, according to easyJet.

The budget airline, based in Luton, released a report on Wednesday criticising the Government's proposals to increase Air Passenger Duty (APD) from £12 to up to £16 per person for flights up to 2,000 miles and to reduce the rates and number of tax bands on long haul flights.

The changes would reduce UK passenger numbers by three million a year, lead to a loss of tens of thousands of jobs across the UK, increase CO2 emissions by 360,000 tonnes a year and reduce tourist spending in the UK by £475 million a year, the report by consultants Frontier Economics said.

It also said the changes would reduce UK gross domestic product by £2.6 billion a year.

EasyJet chief executive Carolyn McCall (left) said: "This independent report shows that the Government's proposals on APD would be bad for the environment and the economy."

"APD has already risen by 140 per cent since 2007 on short haul flights."

"This report provides convincing evidence that the Government should not impose further increases in APD on short haul flights and should rethink its policy on aviation taxation."

"EasyJet is in favour of a move to a per-plane tax."

"Four out of five British passengers would be better off with such a tax."

"More importantly, it would encourage the industry to fly more efficiently."

Council's temp staff agency picks up top award

A RECRUITMENT company that manages the employment of temporary workers on behalf of Luton Borough Council has been given a prestigious award.

Carlisle Managed Solutions, based in Upper George Street, Luton, was awarded the 'Outstanding Outsourced Recruitment Organisation' accolade last Wednesday at the Recruiter Awards in London.

Russell Beck, managing director of Carlisle Managed Solutions, said: "The quality of the service we provide, the way we have embedded ourselves seamlessly into Luton Borough Council and our talented and dedicated team are three of the key strengths of Carlisle."

"It's wonderful that these achievements have been recognised by the Recruiter Awards."

Enjoy a spot of glamping down on the farm

TRAVEL

NEW BARN FARM

HIDDEN deep in the deepest depths of the Bedfordshire countryside is the new holiday destination of New Barn Farm.

I swapped my stilettos for wellies, left behind the hair straighteners, and took along three of my top 'gal pals' to the village of Carlton for a weekend of glamping (glamorous camping).

I'd be the first to admit I am a born and bred townie, so a weekend on a farm was bound to be a shock to the system.

But, in a bid to get the feeling for this new venture – part of the Feather Down Farm group – which only opened in April, we decided to embrace the countryside for a weekend.

After getting a bit lost, (it's not the easiest to find) we arrived at the farm to meet owners Hannah and Will and their three children.

The car park is set among the barns and fields, but the tents are about a ten-minute walk away.

Laden down with large suitcases, food and the compulsory bottles of wine for a girly break, our first question though was – how on earth will we get this down to our tent?

But fear not, this ingenious family has an answer to everything. If Will isn't there on his trusted jeep to give you a lift (and he usually is), there are a number of wheelbarrows to transport your necessities.

Before we made the journey, we were shown the farm's 'honesty' shop.

This treasure trove of goodies has everything from bottles of wine to marshmallows to toast over the fire.

And it all comes down to the honesty of the residents to record what they take and pay for it when they leave – a refreshing bout of trust in today's society which seems to work well.

There is also a bike shed, where visitors can nab some wheels and, again, record it in the honesty shop.

With the vitals taken care of, and a quick point in the direction of where the sheep shearing was taking place the following morning, we were shown to our tents.

Now, this is where the glamping really comes into effect.

Having spent a number of wet weekends shivering with my fella in a two-man tent, I wouldn't even like to call these spectacular creations tents.

With wooden floors, wooden doors, wooden cupboards (one with a bed in), a toilet, a stove, a sink, proper beds and a dining table, it has all the joy of camping, with all your home comforts – minus the television.

While it had pots, pans and cutlery, unfortunately we were lacking washing up liquid, tea-towels or even a cloth.

These little, in-expensive extras would have made life a lot easier and prevented me using my sock as a cloth (not a nice experience).

Apart from that, it was endearingly quaint.

On the Friday night we settled in with some nibbles and wine, enjoying the silence of the countryside, away from the hustle and bustle of real life.

And while it was still cold (socks and jumpers are a must), at least it was roomy, cosy and the wind was kept at bay.

On the Saturday morning, we made a quick dash to the chicken pen to collect some eggs and let the birds out.

Although, it's best to remember that if you let the animals out, you may find yourself chasing after them madly to get them back in again.

Unless you want to get back into your car, daytime activities mostly comprise walking, cycling, playing with the animals or screaming your head off while being pushed on one of the numerous rope swings.

But coming from a TV generation, it was nice to watch all the children playing outdoors.

On Saturday nights the farm owners spark up the woodburning oven, which is a great sight. And while you can order pizzas from the farm, with your own choice of toppings, they are more than happy for you to put your own food in, too.

Standing round the fire (pictured left) was a great place to socialise and get to know some fellow glampers.

For a girl whose closest encounter with nature normally starts, and ends, with sunbathing in the garden, an escape to the country was a wonderful way to spend a weekend.

And while it was fun for a group of girls, this venue is even better suited to families. The kids get to play outdoors and the parents still get all the comforts of home, well almost.

So if you are looking for some fun in the sun this summer, without a trip abroad, why not make a visit to New Barn farm and give glamping a try. It is well worth it.

AFC WIMBLEDON 0 LUTON TOWN 0 (AET) – WIMBLEDON WON 4-3 ON PENALTIES

The end of the world

ACCORDING to an American Bible Group the world was due to end at 6pm last night.

Just a few minutes before the designated hour, it pretty well did for Luton Town.

There can be little that can be said to console Hatters' pair Jason Walker and Alex Lawless who missed spot kicks in a dramatic penalty shoot-out that left Town consigned to another year in non-league football.

It was a cruel way to end a 49-game slog, with less reward than fifth from bottom Forest Green, save one or two memories.

Gary Brabin's vision of a first season as a rookie Football League manager is today in shreds and, should he remain at Kenilworth Road, it's back to the grindstone and trips to the likes of Barrow, Tamworth and Gateshead.

In the end it was the lottery of penalties and AFC Wimbledon's Danny Kedwell's conversion that broke Hatters' hearts.

In an understandably tense opening both teams failed to defend comfortably and they were presented with opportunities to take an early lead.

Firstly, Zdenek Kroca headed wide at the back post and then Jamie Stuart did likewise up the other end.

Dons fans then erupted into cheer, celebrating what they thought was the lead after Luton were caught four-on-three. Mark Tyler parried Kaid Mohamed's low drive into the path of Kedwell, who instinctively tapped home from five yards, but the linesman's flag was raised without hesitation and the strike was ruled out.

Moments later, Robbie Willmott was given an opportunity to test Dons keeper Seb Brown from a free kick – in a similar position to his wonder strike against Kidderminster earlier in the season – but the winger failed to match his previous beauty, firing well high of the goal.

Luton began to settle down and when Willmott threaded a neat ball through to

Brabin's League dream ends in misery after penalty shoot-out woe

BY IAN RYANian.ryan@bedsonsunday.com

Claude Gnaka the Frenchman turned his defender with relative ease and fired a stinging shot across goal which needed a quick-reflex save from Brown to turn the ball over for a corner.

Luton almost took the lead on the half hour after Wimbledon failed to clear a Willmott corner. Sam Hatton's simple under hit header back to his keeper allowed Walker to challenge the stopper in the air. However, the Luton striker was just a little bit too short as the gloveman flapped clear.

The Hatters' frantic pace continued and Wimbledon fans had their hearts in mouths as Gnaka headed Howells' free kick marginally over.

Luton's defence has been their foundation throughout the season and after holding firm throughout a sustained period of Wimbledon possession, they broke quickly but after Willmott used Ed Asafu-Adjaye as a decoy to cut inside, the midfielder blazed over and another great opportunity went begging.

Wimbledon boss Terry Brown must have said something to fire up his side as they came out for the second half charged up but, once again, couldn't find a way through Luton's stubborn defence.

And once Lawless hacked down Steven Gregory, earning him a place in referee James Adcock's book, tempers simmered over and dangerous tackles flew in.

However, in terms of chances, it appeared that things had dried up with a rash effort from Gnaka, which landed a good ten yards wide of Brown's net, the only noteworthy action of the first 15 minutes after the restart.

With 20 minutes left to play Wombles substitute James Mulley almost woke everyone up with a curling effort which needed a helping hand round the post from Tyler.

The Luton stopper seemed confident throughout though when he charged out and came second in a race with Kedwell with only 14 minutes left nerves set in but, fortunately for Tyler, the Wimbledon hitman's touch was too heavy and the ball ran on for a Luton goal kick.

Wimbledon were perhaps lucky to remain with a full complement after Luke Moore, already yellow carded for an earlier infringement, appeared to have elbowed Keith Keane.

Somehow Luton failed to take the lead in the final three minutes. Walker's shot was parried into the path of Matthew Barnes-Homer, but with the goal gaping, Hatton made a fabulous last-ditch block.

All of a sudden Luton were alive and moments later, Walker was inches away from a late winner but his header came back off the post. The striker was left dumfounded as to how he'd not put the Hatters into the Football League but the worst was still to come for the former Barrow player as his penalty miss in the shoot-out contributed to Town's downfall.

First there was a tortuous extra time period where Dan Gleeson's low drive shaved the post and Lawless fired a long range effort just wide as legs began to tire.

In the opening minutes of the second half, Mulley had a great chance after neat pass through from Rashid Yussuff but a fantastic save from Tyler saw the contest to penalties.

Mohammed then had his head in his hands after he was only able to steer Moore's cut back onto the woodwork.

Gleeson perhaps made the tackle of his career with only three minutes remaining. Kedwell's low ball across the face of goal only needed a touch from Moore but the full back's timely intervention put Wimbledon fans back on their seats.

Suddenly it was back to the wall stuff and Ismail Yakubu should have put the final to bed but his free header in the dying seconds was off target signalling spot kicks.

It should have been Town's get out of jail card but instead they folded and were left to pay a massive penalty.

Play-Off Final – City of Manchester Stadium

for sad Town

BEGINNING OF THE END: Alex Lawless trudges back to centre circle after missing Luton Town's opening penalty in their 4-3 shoot-out defeat to Wimbledon

Ref didn't give us much, says Gary

LUTON Town manager Gary Brabin said his side were denied a 'stonewall penalty' in their play-off final spot-kick shoot-out defeat to AFC Wimbledon as his own and players' futures were left hanging in the balance.

Brabin's men were cruelly beaten 4-3 on penalties at the City of Manchester Stadium yesterday which consigned them to a third successive season in non-league.

To make matters worse it was two penalty saves by AFC Wimbledon keeper, Seb Brown, that won it and it was he who was the heart of the controversy.

Brabin felt that the Dons' stopper denied Jason Walker a scoring chance but referee, James Adcock, waved away claims and the Hatters' gaffer said it cost his side dearly.

"I haven't seen the replay but I thought we were denied a stonewall penalty that the referee didn't give, which is very disappointing from our point of view.

"But despite that I'm proud of everyone, the supporters have been fantastic, and the players have been fantastic.

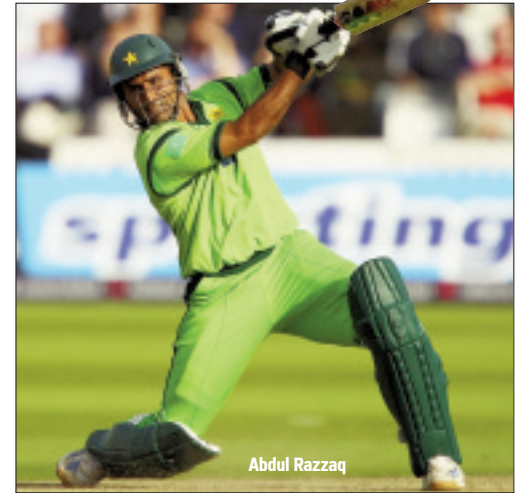

"At the moment I'm trying to console them but we're just genuinely disappointed because we thought that it was going to be out day. It's a cruel way how we lost the game but that's not in my thoughts at the moment it's more that we haven't achieved promotion."

The manager also said the next week is going to be key with players' and his own future to be settled.

He said: "We've got to sit down and sort out everything because there's a lot to be sorted in the next week or so.

"Decisions have to be made in terms of players' contracts and we need to get over the disappointment, dust ourselves down and look forward to next season."

Abdul Razaq

Razaq set for Luton match

CRICKET

WORLD CUP runner-up Abdul Razaq is the latest star name to be announced as a special guest at Luton Town's Twenty20 Cricket Charity Bash.

The Pakistani all-rounder was a key member of his national team's march to the Cricket World Cup semi-finals earlier this year, where they lost out to neighbours and eventual champion India.

Luton Town public engagement officer Matthew Parsfield said: "It is an honour and a privilege to welcome such a huge sporting star to Kenilworth Road, and we're really looking forward to giving Abdul a big Lutonian welcome. The fact that one of the best cricketers in the world is happy to join us as our guest shows what an exciting event Luton Town Twenty20 Cricket is, and I'm sure that all the community will come together to show him their appreciation as it's not every day a World Cup star is in town."

The community cohesion event will also see former England cricket internationals Devon Malcolm and Phil DeFreitas join Hatters football legends Mick Harford, Scott Oakes, Tony Thorpe and Marvin Johnson at the crease as a Hatters invitational team takes on Luton Pakistanis.

This main attraction will follow matches between Bedfordshire girls and Herts, plus Luton Town & Indians under 14s versus Hemel Hempstead boys.

Bacon and Thurstance in line for a return in Trophy

CRICKET

BEDFORDSHIRE have a week-end's break to get their breath back after last week's thrilling run chase which brought a three-wicket victory over Oxfordshire, writes Lance Christopher.

There are no MCCA Trophy fixtures today but Bedfordshire face a key game next Sunday when they take on bottom-of-the-table Dorset at Dunstable Town CC's ground.

Bedfordshire's win last week has revived their hopes of qualifying for the quarter finals of the competition. Herefordshire, Bedfordshire's opponents in the final round of matches, are already through having won all their three games so far, but Bedfordshire, Oxfordshire and Hertfordshire are level with one victory apiece.

James Kettleborough will again be missing from the side to play Dorset as he will be playing for Bedford School against Tonbridge, but the county selectors are hoping that George Thurstance will be available having missed the win over Oxfordshire because of Cardiff University commitments. Teenage all-rounder George Bacon is another who could return.

It was the batsmen who got Bedfordshire home at Banbury last week, the bowlers having toiled as Oxfordshire rattled up 311-8.

A second wicket partnership of 110 between Rob Keogh (79) and Andy Reynoldson (47) laid the foundations for the Bedfordshire chase and it was Steve Stubbings, 65 from 44 balls, and skipper Ollie Clayson, 44 from 35 balls, who put the target within range.

But when both were run out, Bedfordshire's chances looked slim. However a flurry of wides got them back in the hunt and George Arblaster and Colin Griggs saw them to victory with three balls to spare.

It will be a game Oxon's opener Richard Kaufman will remember for a long time. He scored 170 from 143 balls, breaking the county's one-day record, and still finished on the losing side.
